

January 4, 2011

Transaero Inc. is now the worldwide exclusive distributor for 2Source's Boeing Licensed Commercial Airline products

2Source Manufacturing (CAGE: L4654) an AS9100 certified leader in precision machined bushings and bushing-like parts for the aircraft, defense, nuclear and oil & gas industries, is pleased to announce the appointment of Transaero Inc. as the worldwide exclusive distributor¹ for its Boeing Licensed Commercial Airline products.

Transaero is an established and well respected company, with over five decades of experience in the Aerospace MRO marketplace. With a large international sales force and 12 distribution centers worldwide, Transaero is well positioned to serve your global needs.

One of Transaero's valued capabilities is its ability to accurately forecast marketplace demands for parts. Using the company's proprietary market intelligence systems and insight gained over the last half century serving Aerospace MROs, 2Source will work in partnership with Transaero to anticipate market fluctuations. With that knowledge the two companies will then, in liaison, manufacture and inventory large runs of parts in advance of customers' needs. The results? Higher efficiencies, faster response times and greater competitiveness.

This distributorship agreement will also allow all parts to be dual certified with a Transport Canada Authorized Release Certificate Form One accompanied by Transaero's FAA 8130.

Please send all order inquiries for Boeing Licensed Airline products to:

Transaero, Inc. (CAGE: 27541)
35 Melville Park Road
Melville, New York 11747 USA

Attn: Dan Moss (moss@transaeroinc.com)
Program Manager
Telephone: (631)-752-1240
FAX: (631)-752-1242
Web: transaeroinc.com

For further information about this announcement please contact:

Marshall Warren (mwarren@2source.com)
Program Manager
1-866-361-9997